Lady Argos Fall to No. 10 Warriors

Great Falls, Mont. – The University of Great Falls women’s basketball team could not overcome a 17 point deficit at halftime and dropped a 77-63 contest to the 10th ranked Warriors of Lewis-Clark State College at the McLaughlin Center tonight.

Senior center Jamie Young had an impressive night shooting 60 percent (6-of-10) while grabbing eight rebounds. Young made all five of her free-throw attempts to finish with 20 points. Junior Kezia Ford added 13 while senior Marissa Skogen chipped in 10 points with nine boards and two steals.

Great Falls out-rebounded the Warriors 41-30 and made 85 percent of their free-throw attempts (17-of-20). The Lady Argos ended the night shooting 33.9 percent from the field.

The Warriors, who shot 54.5 percent from the field, were led by Jasmine Stohr who tossed in 22 points.

The Lady Argos turn around to host the No. 9 Westminster College Griffins on Saturday. Great Falls will honor its four seniors following the game which is set to start at 5:30 pm.
